

April 17, 2015

DELANEY HARDWARE aids local Habitat for Humanity Build

Got Locks? The most recent Habitat for Humanity build in Hall County can now proudly answer YES!!

Three Delaney employees had the privilege of lending a hand with the completion of the DeSota Street construction in Gainesville this past Tuesday. Together with Habitat High students, our employees helped add some of the final touches before the keys are handed over to the new homeowner next Friday, April 24th.

Lisa Leonard, an Accounting Clerk for Delaney, had the opportunity to step away from her desk and join two co-workers on the job. "It was a nice experience getting out of the office and being able to give back to the community. As I was installing the hardware in the bathroom, I thought of how happy it would make the new homeowner and that just made my day."

The products that Delaney donated for the project included locksets for all interior and exterior doors, bathroom accessories, and trim hardware.

This service is provided as part of Delaney's L.O.C.K initiative, which encourages the acts of Love, Outreach, Change, and Kindness as part of our corporate culture.

